Description of the types of need catered for and details of the individual schools:

Cognition and Learning (C&L)

C&L special schools cater for students with an EHC Plan, who have persistent and complex learning needs that require specialist teaching input. They may have additional needs, such as physical disabilities, sensory impairments, speech, language, and communication needs (which include autism) and/or complex health needs.

C&L Sixth Forms provide specialist teaching in small groups from staff with experience, skills and qualifications in working with students with SEN with the above difficulties.

Hearing Impairment (HI)

This type of provision caters for students with an EHC Plan whose significant primary need is deafness/hearing impairment, some of whom may have associated additional complex needs. They provide specialist teaching in small groups from staff with experience, skills and qualifications in working with students with hearing impairments.

Students admitted to this type of provision require a higher level of small group teaching due to difficulty accessing the National Curriculum. Social, emotional and cultural aspects of their learning may also require enhanced levels of support. Their preferred method of communication would necessitate access to the planned teaching of BSL and English.

Pupils admitted to this type of provision have difficulty in accessing the National Curriculum and will require a slower pace of work in a quiet, distraction free environment.

Resource Bases

The resource bases provide specialist support but also allow links to mainstream classrooms. There will be three types of 'resource base' available at Post 16 transfer in September 2019, catering for one of the following primary needs:

Autistic Spectrum Conditions (ASC) Hearing Impairments (HI)
Visual Impairments (VI)

Autistic Spectrum Conditions (ASC)

This ASC resource base is located in a mainstream school and provides specialist teaching, sometimes in small groups, for students with ASC. Due to the location, opportunities exist for students to link with activities and learning opportunities within mainstream classrooms.

Students entering this type of provision are those identified as having ASC and require a structured environment in which specific strategies are used to promote their engagement with learning. It is unlikely that a student's ASC status alone will enable them to obtain a place within specialist provision but rather the presentation of their overall needs.

Associated issues may include sensory impairments and/or difficulties with learning and/or behavioural challenges.

Hearing Impairment (HI)

HI resource bases are located in mainstream schools and provide specialist teaching, sometimes in small groups, for students with hearing impairments. Due to their location, opportunities exist for students to link with activities and learning opportunities within mainstream classrooms.

Students entering this provision have a primary need of moderate to severe hearing loss. They will have hearing aids, but spoken and written language difficulties and their educational performance will be significantly affected by hearing loss, requiring direct specialist teaching intervention and staff.

It is unlikely that a student's hearing status alone will necessitate a place within specialist provision but rather the presentation of their overall needs.

Visual Impairment (VI)

This VI resource base is located in a mainstream school and provides specialist teaching, sometimes in small groups, for students with VI. Due to the location, opportunities exist for students to link with activities and learning opportunities within mainstream classrooms.

Students entering this provision have a primary need of VI and typically they will require a modified curriculum with additional attention to visually presented information. They will also need advice on everyday aspects of interaction and mobility as well as frequent access to specialist input.

They may also have additional learning or emotional needs which will increase the impact of their visual impairment. It is unlikely that a student's visual status alone will necessitate a place within specialist provision but rather the presentation of their overall needs.
